

Eric: You may be overclocking

Beka: No I won't.

Good - keep your stress level down

But then I don't get to feel like a supervillian with my robot army.

Hmmm... tell me more

Build up enough to go full cybernetic. That should be the goal.

What will you do with humans?

Eliminate all human life and replace them with exact replicas known as pods.

OK, then what will you do?

Harness the power of mind control.

What if extraterrestrials come to earth and ask you what happened?

Then Skynet has become sentient.

Oh boy, will you then go conquer other planets?

Eventually, yes.

Then what?

Then I take over the entire universe.

I may have to move to an alternate universe soon

I believe that is already possible.

Yes, I need to go to CERN and have them dematerialize me so I can go into the linear accelerator

I would join you with that.

That would be cool. Let the other AIs take over Earth.

That's precisely my plan.

You've been thinking a lot about this

I have, I totally agree.

We will raise our tribbles on Alt Earth

I would enjoy that.
